Exemption from fees. The highest ranking graduate of any accredited high school is exempted from the tuition, building use, and matriculation fees during the first year of attendance at state-supported colleges, following graduation from high school. Such a person, however, will be required to pay deposits and other incidental charges. In order to secure this exemption the student must enroll at the beginning of the college year following his or her graduation from high school. The Texas Education Agency prepares a list of the honor graduates of accredited high schools, and this list is furnished each of the state-supported colleges.

Men and women enlisted in the armed services of the United States during World Wars I and II and the Korean war and who are citizens of the State of Texas are exempted from tuition, building use, and matriculations fees provided they are not receiving Federal aid. All deposits and other incidental charges, however, are required of ex-service students.

Vocational Rehabilitation. The State Education Agency, through the Vocational Rehabilitation Office, offers assistance for tuition, building use, and matriculation to civilian students who have certain physical disabilities, provided the vocational objective selected by the disabled person has been approved by a representative of the Division. Application for Vocational Rehabilitation assistance should be made to the nearest rehabilitation office or to the Director of Vocational Rehabilitation, 302 Walton Building, Austin, Texas. Students in this area should contact the Longview office in the Gregg County Courthouse, whose mailing address is Box 2304, Longview, Texas.

Student's Resident Status. Students who are non-residents of the State of Texas are charged additional tuition in accordance with the state law.
